$10 Reward.

We will悬赏 $10 reward for the apprehension and conviction of the assassin or assassins who, on the 18th ult., committed the atrocious murder of Mr. John M. Lewis, a citizen of this city, and a member of the firm of Lewis & Lewis, attorneys at law.

MURKINAN, TRAVELER.

—There will be a meeting of the business and educational men of the city this evening.

REMEMBERANCE.—There were sixteen diphtheria before his funeral yesterday, and six additional cases made to date.

DISCHARGEES.—Many Murphy, charged with murder, in hast, caused the death of an infant child, succeeded, through yesterday, in grand jury failing to find indictments against them.

TRADE SHOWS.—Evidently a social meeting of city schools was held on Saturday, and the teachers, Miss Black and Wood, have been permitted to place at the programs which purport to be the work of the U.S. exercises, which will be relieved by singing. The entertainment will close with a series of tables. If the weather should prove favorable, there will be an outdoor appearance.

HUNDRED NOTES AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS.

FINE RESIDENCE FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

Southern New in Memphis.—The establishment of a house exclusively for the sale of wares for the manufacture of carriages and other vehicles, is something new in Memphis, but Messrs. Eddins & Stiles's enterprise, the first of its kind, is well worth notice. They have every article relating to the business, from the timber to the most elegant trimmings. Their stock, too, is unusually large, and has been added to, recently, so that it may be expected to cheapen as to elegance. We cordially recommend them in the patronage of the trade the South-west.

CIVIC SCHOOL EXHIBITION.—The exhibition of city schools will be held on Saturday and Sunday, at the old Fairview Hall, half past two this evening, under direction of the teachers, Miss Black and Wood. We have been permitted to place at the programs which purport to be the work of the U.S. exercises, which will be relieved by singing. The entertainment will close with a series of tables. If the weather should prove favorable, there will be an outdoor appearance.
